CONDITIONS OF SALE

The following conditions are understood to be acknowledged by all persons participating in the auction, whether bidding in the room on their own account or executing commissions for others or submitting bids by post or fax.

Estimates are in UK Pounds and opening bids will be about 80% of estimate, unless there are higher offers. The purchase price is in UK pounds, together with a buyer's premium of 15 %, or, for residents of the EU, 17.625 % including VAT, with postage charges where applicable, the total sum being due after the final bid and payable on delivery. There is a 3 % service charge for purchases by credit card. Late payment of the invoice, which is due upon receipt, will incur interest at current bank rate. Adjudication ensues after the highest bid and commits the bidder to accept the coins. Written bids have preference over room bids. In the case of competing equal written bids, the first received takes precedence. The buyer cannot claim to act on behalf of a third party.

Authenticity of the coins is unconditionally guaranteed, without time limit. All identifications of the items sold in this catalogue are statements of opinion and made in good faith.

Despatching of purchases is normally registered and insured at the purchaser's expense. The purchaser is responsible for any dues or taxes outside the EU and is advised to acquaint himself with the formalities. The auctioneer cannot be held responsible for contraventions.

The auctioneer may change the order of lots in the catalogue or unite lots; lots however cannot be divided. Where, in error, text and plate numbers are mismatched, the text number takes precedence. The auction is held in London and any legal questions arising shall be there determined.

The coins will be on view at our premises until and including 15th June

CENTRAL ITALY AND THE ROMAN REPUBLIC

The origin of the bronze coinage of Rome and Italy is to be sought in the central Italian bronze currency system of the first millennium BC for which we have anachronistic Roman sources, inclined to invent historical as well as monetary events and making the beginning of its coinage respectably antique by associating it with king Numa Pompilius. Pliny, for example, H N 33. 35., quoting Timaeus, claimed that Servius Tullius was the first king to mark bronze at Rome.

Primitive bronze, aes rude, and bar, aes signatum, hoards throughout central Italy confirm the use of a bronze currency in need of reweighing with each transaction, the unit of weight being the libra, pondus or as, i.e., the "pound", weighed, pensum, and not counted, numeratum, by weighers or cashiers, dispensatores. Soldiers received pay, stipendium, payments were weighed out, expensa, and estimates were weighed, aestimatio. All these terms lasted well beyond the introduction of struck coinage and have passed into modern languages. The word as is perhaps of Greek origin, signifying "weighed". The primitive Roman libra had a theoretical weight of 288 scruples, about 324 g. The first aes grave is probably no earlier than the Apollo / horse ROMANO struck nummus, Cr.15/1, of about 280, and is cast on a heavy libral standard. Subsequently, lighter libral series were issued on a standard which was allowed to fall until the official semilibral revaluation of 217.

The Second Punic War, 218-201, created a deep economic crisis in Italy which Rome and her allies tried to redress by successive revaluations until finally in about 212/211, cast bronze was abandoned completely and struck asses on a sextantal standard took its place, being tariffed at 10 to the new standard denomination, the denarius. The 3rd century witnessed not only the relentless absorption by Rome of southern Italy, whence she derived so many cultural influences, but also her progressive domination of the Italic tribes and the Etruscan urban civilization. It is not surprising that Rome should adopt the currency of Magna Graecia, commissioning silver Mars/horse's head coins and related bronze, Cr.22/1, from Metapontum and Neapolis, possibly in the late 330's very close to the prevailing nomos standard, but by the 280's she had also a monetary system compatible with that of her central Italian neighbours.

ITALIAN CAST COINAGE

Aes rude

622 5th-3rd centuries Irregular lump, Æ 65 g. Cf. TV pl. 2. A good example with earthy green patina, VF £40

Aes rude in the form of irregular shapes of no exact standard have been found all over central Italy and are often of about the weight of a libral uncia.

626 Adze-head, Æ 84 g. Cf. E Peruzzi, Money in early Rome, p.122 fig.1 (from the Ardea hoard). Earthy green patina, VF £150

Aes signatum, currency bars

627 5th-3rd centuries. Fragment of "ramo secco" bar, Æ 841 g. Dry branch or herringbone pattern on either side. Cf. Crawford, Coinage and money under the Roman Republic, p.4, 2. Ferruginous green-brown patina, VF £900

The above uncoined copper ingot is associated with "ramo secco' bars which have been found mainly in Etruria, Umbria and Emilia and circulated as far as Sicily and Illyria. For find spots and comment see M. Crawford, CMRR 3-6 and A. Burnet and P. Craddock., "Italian currency bars", in Italian Iron Age Artifact in the British Museum, 1984.

633 after c. 211. Cast contemporary imitation of a sexantal as from Spain, Æ 27.41 g. Head of Janus. / Prow r.; above I and below, ROMA. Earthy dark patina, VF £80

The continual lowering of the weight standard of the aes grave during the Second Punic War finally led to the cessation of production of cast money when, with the great sextantal reform of 212/211, there was introduced the struck as of about 54 g., with its fractions in bronze, its multiples in silver.

855 Bronze obverse (anvil) die of a denarius, c. 74-79 in Rome style. Æ 104 g. in the form of a cushion-shaped torus or column base, 18 mm in height and 30 mm in breath at the widest point, the flat top and bottom 25 and 28 mm respectively, broad lug, 10 x 10 m.m., at 10' clock, the figura or type an engraved incuse laureate head of Vespasian l., legend [IMP CAES]AR VESPASIANVS AVG, cf. RIC 123-4. Said to have been found in former Yugoslavia, and an object of great historical interest. The dark green patina somewhat corroded, otherwise clear and VF £2,500

The central edge projection or lug may have been intended to fix the die in the anvil, or may be merely a casting sprue retained from the original mould for the unfinished die before engraving; a possibly contemporary scrape across the legend at 11 o'clock is suggestive of the die's having been rejected as an imperfect waster. Once again, the alleged find-spot, an area of constant military activity and recruitment, indicates the likelihood of dies manufactured at Rome having been exported, with attendant bullion, to the appropiate provincia, or field of action, in order that the correct number of units of specie might be made and distributed on the spot according to the varying needs of, above all, the army. In 74 and 75 troop movements in Illyricum generally may be presumed in association with Trajan Senior's campaign against Parthian incursions into Syria.

CELTIC AND EARLY MEDIEVAL COINS

offered in association with Chris Rudd

This is my first sale with Italo Vecchi and I am grateful to him for giving me some space in his superbly produced catalogue.

Of special interest in the Celtic section are the Regenbogenschüsselchen and other coins found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands, 1980-94; the Annaroveci silver coin (No.1538) is particularly rare. Other Celtic rarities include an Armorican gold quarter (No.1550), a Kentish A gold quarter from the Derek Walsh collection (No.1581), an unpublished Atrebatic silver unit (No.1583), a Snettisham gold stater (No.1603), and a Tasciovanus Vulvas silver unit (No.1632). There is also an unusual selection of Celtic wheel money (Nos.1558-1574) which, until recently, has been overlooked by collectors.

Among the Early Medieval coins there are three most uncommon pieces: a Burgundian gold tremissis of Gundomar II found in Norfolk (No.1708), a Hearts Cross Saltire sceat from Nottinghamshire (No.1725) and a Coenwulf Double Tribrach penny by Diola – one of only four known (No.1730). But not all Anglo-Saxon rarities are costly; if you look in lot No.1789 you will find a blank flan.

Your bids for Celtic and Early Medieval coins should be sent directly to Italo Vecchi as usual, not to me. However, I will of course be delighted to discuss any of these coins with you (tel. 01263 735 007). You can view them prior to the sale at Italo Vecchi Ltd. Just phone for an appointment (tel. 0171 491 7048).

1513 Horse and Shield. Æ drachm. 3.63g. Male head r. with heavy wedge-shaped eyebrow and curly hair composed of small crescents, crescent below. / Horse r. with harness and highly stylised rider (torso only), oval shield and exergual line below. New type, unpublished by major catalogues. Good VF, dark-green patina. Extremely rare. £150

For this type of shield see Göbl OTA 346.

RHINELAND RAINBOW CUPS

The so-called Rainbow Cup staters (Regenbogenschüsselchen) of the Rhineland started c.2nd/1st century BC around Stradonitz in Bohemia and moved to Bavaria, centred on the warrior oppidum of Manching. They circulated widely in Gaul and in medieval times were imagined to possess magical properties.

1514 Snake and Three Lyres. AV stater of south-west Germany. 7.64g. Stylised serpent with scaly head. / Triadic motif of three Celticised lyres with central pellet. LT 9443, Castelin 1078, Allen/Nash 157. Near VF, golden gold, very heavy, weak dies and striking cracks, as is customary with this scarce type. £350

Gold Rainbow Cups were among the first coins minted in Germany. The serpent-dragon was often seen as a custodian of buried wealth, because of its underground habitat. There is a widespread German tradition that dragons were guardians of treasure concealed in tumuli – for example, in the story of Beowulf. In classical terms, the lyre is one of Apollo's attributes and symbolises his powers of divination. The lyres on this Rainbow Cup may also represent paired S-shapes, in other words, six little snakes which echo the big one on the obverse. The Snake and Three Lyres type comes from south-west Germany and is found in Switzerland and the borders of France. It is one of the rarer types of Rainbow Cup.

1515 Triskele in Wreath. AR stater of Batavia. 4.73g. Triskele in wreath. / Triad of double rings, row of four ringed-pellets. LT 9441, Castelin 1100. VF, clear rings. Found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £200

The triskele on this Rainbow Cup is derived from three revolving eagle heads.

1516 Triskele in Wreath. Billon stater of Batavia. 5.64g. Triskele in wreath. / Triad of double rings, row of three ringed-pellets. LT 9441, Castelin 1100. VF, found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £150

1517 Triskele in Wreath. Billon stater of Batavia. 5.52g. Triskele in wreath. / Triad of double rings, row of three ringed-pellets. LT 9441, Castelin 1100, DTVE fig.4, no.12 (this coin). VF, found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £150

1518 Triskele in Wreath. Billon (mostly AE) stater of Batavia. 5.12g. Triskele in wreath. / Triad of double rings. LT 9442, Castelin 1101. Good F, found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £125

AEDUI

Celtic tribe of eastern Gaul, based around Bibracte on Mont Beuvray (Nièvre dept., near modern Autun).

1519 Orgetorix? Plated AR/AE. 1.01g. Head l. / Horse l. LT 4800, 4805, BMC 432? Good F, most silver plating intact. Found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £50

This Orgetorix was an Aeduan, the son of Atpillos, and not the Helvetian Orgetorix who conspired against Caesar and committed suicide.

SEQUANI

Celtic tribe between Soane and Mount Jura, eastern France. Their capital, Vesontio (Besançon, Doubs dept.) was captured by Caesar in 58 BC.

1520 Quintus Doci. AR quinarius. 1.84g. Helmeted head l., Q DO[CI]. / Horse l., Q DO[CI] SAM [F]. LT 5405, BMC 346, DTVE fig.3, no.14 (this coin). VF, nice horse, inscription both sides. Found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £100

Quintus Doci was the son of Sam, or so he says. This type is unlikely to have been issued before c.57-56 BC.

1521 Similar. AR. 1.52g. DTVE fig.3, 9 (this coin). Fine. Found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £50

Scheers says that on some specimens of this large potin coin traces of the name DOCI can be read.

1523 Togirix. AR quinarius. 1.86g. Head l., TOGIR[IX]. / Horse l. LT 5550, BMC 366. Near EF, toned, sharp inscription. £120

1525 Similar. AR. 1.75g. DTVE fig. 3, no. 8 (this coin). VF, bold horse. Found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £75

1526 Similar. AR. 1.68g. VF, toned. Found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £75

1527 Similar. AR. 1.76g. Fine. Found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £40

ARMORICA

Coastal region of north-west France between Seine and Loire, comprising Brittany and Normandy. Came under Roman rule in 56 BC.

1550 Corded Head. AV quarter stater, 2nd cent. BC. 1.88g. Head r. with ridged hair and beaded cords attached to it. / Worn die, plain except for traces of horse. LT 6915-16. EF, as struck in delightful golden gold, hair in high relief. Very rare. £450

Henri de la Tour catalogues this interesting and unusual gold quarter as 'indéterminée de l'armorique' and speculates that the head may be that of Ogmios, the Celtic god that Lucian of Samosata (a Greek author, c.117-180AD) equated with Hercules. This Romano-Celtic Ogmios is related to the Irish god Oghma, described as a 'strong man' and credited with the invention of ogham, a system of writing which consisted of horizontal and slanting strokes and notches cut in stone or wood. On gold staters in this series you can sometimes see little severed heads on the ends of the cords around the head. The four known examples of this gold quarter all have an indecipherable reverse; it is literally as minted. For a full discussion see Philip de Jersey, Coinage in Iron Age Armorica (1994) pp.69-75.

TREVERI

Gallic tribe in region of Trier (Augusta Treverorum) on Moselle river, west Germany.

1552 Germanus Indutilli. Æ quadrans. 3.03g. Augustan diademed head r. / Bull l., [CERM]ANVS [IND]VTILLI.L. LT 9248, BMC 269, DTVE fig.6, no.6 (this coin). Good VF, dark patina, nice head. Found near the Gallo-Roman temple at Empel, Netherlands. £100

Germanus was a Celtic freedman (the L is for libertus) of Indutillus and probably held some kind of authority in Gallia Belgica. The type copies a quadrans of Augustus, Lugdunum mint, c.15-10 BC (RIC I, 358).

CELT-IBERIAN

The Celtic and Celt-Iberian districts of Hispania (Spain) are not clearly defined by geographical boundaries, but are concentrated chiefly in the southern, central and eastern regions. Celt-Iberian coins are mainly characterised by the Celt-Iberian script of their towns and tribes; many coins bear bilingual inscriptions. Some collectors still think Celt-Iberian coins "aren't really Celtic". They should read Derek Allen & Daphne Nash The Coins of the Ancient Celts (1980), pp.83-86, or better still, Leandre Villaronga, Corpus Nummum Hispaniae ante Augusti Aetatem (1994), abbreviation: CNH.

1553 The Bascunes. (Navarra, northern Spain). 2nd cent. BC. AR denarius. 3.96g. Bearded head r., BENKOTA. / Horseman r. with sword, BASKUNES. CNH 250, 10. Good VF, handsome head, full legend. £50

1555 Castulo Sphinx. (Caslona in Jaén, southern Spain. 2nd cent. BC. Æ as. 17.04g. Diademed male head r. / Sphinx r., foreleg raised, star before, KASTILO. CNH 333, 23. VF, beautiful mid-green patina, well detailed head, clear sphinx, full legend, a weighty piece. £60

1556 Castulo Bull. 1st cent. BC. Æ quadrans. 4.04g. Diademed male head r., letter A before. / Bull r., letter L and crescent above, parts of KASTILO in exergue. CNH 337, 52. Good VF, early olive-green patina, bold head and bull. £40

1557 Obulco Plough. (Porcuna in Jaén, southern Spain). 2nd cent. BC. Æ as. 14.46g. Female head r., hair in small bun. / Iberic script between plough and corn ear. CNH 347-348. VF/F, very Celtic head, brown tone. £30

CELTIC WHEEL MONEY

Though widely distributed in Gaul, much Celtic wheel money seems to come from the Alpine region of Savoy in south-east France. The dating of wheel money is uncertain. The most recent evidence of its pre-Roman antiquity comes from archaeological excavations at Zavist (occupied 6th-2nd cent. BC) where part of a mould for small rings and spoked wheels was found (Petr Drda & Alena Rybova, Les Celtes de Bohême, 1995, p.144). Is wheel money real money? Most scholars over the last 163 years have favoured a monetary function: Saussaye and de Saulcy (1836), Dufresne (1839), Lelwel (1841), Lambert (1844, 1864), Widranges (1861), Brunaux (1986), Veillon (1987), Victoor (1989) and Salicis (1996). My own view is that miniature wheels of lead and bronze probably served as primitive money, even if only in a votive context. The best catalogue is Claude Salicis, Rouelles et Anneaux (1996).

1558 Bronze wheel with four spokes. 22mm. 3.08g. CS 6305. Good VF, smooth olive-green patina. £60

1624 Cranborne Chase. c.55-45 BC. AR or AR/AV stater. 6.10g. Durotrigan wreath pattern with upward-facing leaves. / Three-tailed disjointed horse l., 12 large pellets above, one below. VA 1235-1, BMC 2691, S 366. Near EF, high-grade silver, heavy weight, brilliant unblemished surfaces. £120

This Cranborne Chase stater and Nos.1625 and 1626 may all be of 'white gold' (electrum) alloy. Without metal analysis it is impossible to be sure. However, comparing the weights of these three staters with the weights of the Cranborne Chase staters from the Corfe Common hoard, Dorset, 1980 (BMC 2525-2554), I'd guess that they may contain a minimal amount of gold. Their silver colour – no tinges of yellow – suggests that the gold content would be no more than 1% to 5% at most.

1625 Cranborne Chase. c.55-45 BC. AR or AR/AV stater. 5.83g. Durotrigan wreath pattern with upward-facing leaves. / Disjointed horse l., 12 large pellets above, one below. VA 1235-1, BMC 2691, S 366. Near EF, high-grade silver, brilliant unblemished surfaces, cloak lines showing. £120

1626 Cranborne Chase. c.55-45 BC. AR or AR/AV stater. 5.91g. Durotrigan wreath pattern with upward-facing leaves. / Three-tailed disjointed horse l., 'coffee bean' and 12 large pellets above, one below. VA 1235-1, BMC 2691, S 366. Near EF, high-grade silver, brilliant unblemished surfaces, whole horse. £120

1627 Badbury Rat. c.20BC – 20AD. AR quarter. 0.65g. Plain. / Central thunderbolt with 'clamshell' and rat on one side, oblong and rings on other side. VA 1260. BMC 2751. S 368. VF, toned, ex Stuart Muckley collection. £35

Avars, a people of undetermined origin and language played an important rôle in eastern Europe from the 6th century building a domain in the area between the Adriatic and Baltic seas and the Dnieper river. In 588, they were allied with the Lombards in the overthrow of the Gepids, allies of Byzantium, and established themselves in the Hungarian plain. The Avars often engaged in wars with Byzantium, almost occupying Constantinople in 626, and the Merovingians. After c. 650, revolt and internal discord coinciding with the creation of the Bulgarian state weakened their empire, which, however, survived until 685 when it submitted to Charlemagne.

THE ANGLO-SAXONS

EAST ANGLIA c.710-740

1712 Epa Radiate. R2 imitation. After 710. AR sceat. 11mm. 1.05g. 280°. Radiate bust r., ring and runic EPA in front. / TOTII in beaded box, tufa above containing three dots, LT to l. Mó, Só. EMC 1998.0055. VF, good silver, nicely toned. £50

1713 Ipswich Pyramid. Series R3. c.715-720. Ipswich? AR sceat. 1.15g. Bust r. with pyramid neck. XEPA or L in front, LO behind. / Beaded box with LOLII, lines and pellets all round outside. Same dies as M 397. S—. EMC 1999.0005. Sharp EF, toned, a beautiful specimen. £160

1714 Ipswich Radiate. Series R imitation muling Series R3/E. c.715-740. AR sceat, possibly plated. 12mm. 0.89g. 180°. Radiate bust r., runic XEPL in front. / TOT and two pellet triads in beaded-line box, tufa above with pellet triad, cross on other three sides. M–. S–. VF, bright silver, complete runic inscription. Extremely rare. £75

The low weight and unusual use of the L rune indicate this sceat may be a plated imitation, cf. M 400, although the reverse is entirely different.

1715 Three-Ring Radiate. Series R8. c.720-740. Ipswich or Woodbridge. AR sceat. 13mm. 0.96g. Stylised radiate bust r., ring and runic letters in front of which only E is clear. Two rings behind with V between. / LOLII in beaded box with four crosses around and angled from corners. M 410-414. S 832. EMC 1999.0006. Blue-hued EF, clear and well centred. £100

1716 Three-Ring Radiate. Series R8. c.720-740. Ipswich or Woodbridge. AR sceat. 12mm. 0.91g. Stylised radiate bust r., runic inscription in front mostly off flan. Behind, there are the usual two rings with V between, but here the ear has been turned into a third ring. / LLII and pellet in beaded box with three crosses around and angled lines from corners. M 413 var, S 832. Good VF, great head. Rare. £50

NORTHUMBRIA c.710-725

1717 Bird on Cross. Series J, type 85 (BIIB). c.710-725. York. AR sceat. 1.26g. Diademed head r. inside double beaded border. / Stylised bird r. over long cross, with four pellets under beak. Annulet and pellet at l. arm of cross, annulet at r. Three pellets at either side below, in double beaded border. M 293, S 791. EMC 1999.0007. EF, scintillating silver, mint state. £120

A superb example of this diverse series that fits all the classic criteria of BIIB.

1718 Two Heads. Series J, type 37, imitation. After 710. AR sceat. 0.78g. Two diademed heads facing each other, long tripod cross between. / Four stylised birds clockwise around small cross pommée. M 297. S 792. Good VF, toned, nice heads. £100

EAST SAXON c.715-725

1719 Three Crosses and Dragon. Series N, type 41b. c.715-725. London? AR sceat. 0.90g. Two tall front-facing figures, holding long cross pommée at either side, with a small cross pommée between. / Dragon l. with open-jawed head turned back and claw-footed legs folded under, decorated with beaded lines. M 368, S 810. Good VF, lovely figures. £150

The inside arms of the two figures are usually elongated to touch the ground; on this coin (and the next), although something extends to the ground, the hands can be clearly seen at the usual length.

1720 Another. 0.91g. EMC 1999.0012. Some surface damage on reverse, otherwise VF, with delightful figures. £50

1721 Three Crosses and Dragon. Series N, type 41b, c.715-725. London? AR sceat. 1.02g. 130°. Two tall front-facing figures, holding long cross at left (and probably at r.), a cross of four pellets between. The inside arms are elongated to touch the ground. / Dragon l. with open-jawed head turned back and front leg curled under. Tail turned over back with triple-pellet end. Body outlined with beaded lines. M p.463. S 810. Good VF, remarkable figures and fantasy beast. £150

UNCERTAIN ENGLISH c.695-725

1722 Big Hat. Series F, var. b. c.695-705. AR sceat. 1.25g. Bust r. wearing broad-rimmed hat, blundered legend around. / Central cross pattée, ring at each arm, TTII in angles, step below, blundered legend around. M 137, S 781. Near EF, as struck, ex William J Subjack collection. £120

Based on a Merovingian prototype, the legends are a garbled form of +LDEONE MONET and +LVTIZIDDERO.

1724 Series W. AR 1.05 g. Half-length figure seen from front, head l., holding two crosses with annulets. / Cross and crosslets with saltire cross. Metcalf p. 153. BMC type 54. S. 785. Toned, a weakly struck EF, ex William J Subjack collection. £400

1725 Hearts Cross Saltire. c.710-715. AR sceat. 1.07g. Cruciform motif of four hearts composed of double cross ancrée with pellet in centre, pellet in each angle and pellet at each opening of the double cross. One of the angle pellets is in a ring, which is unusual. / Saltire standard with three pellets in each angle, contained within a double box of beaded lines. Unpublished variant of M 434, see M p.531, cf. The Searcher, February 1993, p.39, EMC 1999.0038. VF, toned, centrally struck. Excessively rare, only four others recorded of this type, none of this variety. £300

Mike Bonser says: "I know of only five coins of this type. Their findspots are: 1. near Canterbury, Kent, 2. Tilbury, Essex (now in the Ashmolean Museum), 3. Domburg, Holland, 4. South Lincolnshire, 5, near Cotgrave, Nottinghamshire (this coin). From Holland to Nottinghamshire is hardly conducive for pinpointing a source for this type. The saltire-standard is a frequent reverse design for a number of rare and minor types (Types 38, 51, 61, 70, 78, 87 and this type); but this double cross ancrée obverse does not appear anywhere else in the sceatta series. It is difficult to check for die-links on such a simple design; but this obverse die with the ringed-pellet in one quarter has certainly not been seen before. Dating is difficult. It is not very early, nor very late. The silver is not usually the best. On the other hand, the weights are not very low. I guess, therefore, that we are talking c.710-715."

FRISIA c.700-720

1726 Plumed Bird. Series E, var. j. c.700-c.710. Dorestad. AR sceat. 1.10g. Bird r. with 'porcupine' plumage, pellets in front and under, and cross pommée behind the legs. / Beaded box with annulet and pellet centre, four pellet-end bars and six pellets. Above, cross with two pellets each side. M 191, struck from same dies, S 789. EMC 1999.0016. Sharp EF, silvery-grey toning, superb bird. £120

Mike Bonser says: "It is unusual, given the numbers struck in Series E, to find a die-duplicate."

1727 Plumed Bird. Series E, var. l. c.715-c.720. Dorestad. AR sceat. 0.87g. Bird with long neck and no head. 'Porcupine' plumage, large annulet below the neck and two pellets between the legs. / Beaded box with five annulet with pellet centres and four groups of three pellets between. M—, see M pp.197 and 208, S 789. EF, light-grey tone, beautiful bird. Scarce. £120

1728 Maastricht ?. Denier, AR 1.35 g. +HOVINS◊ retrograde, around simplified ship with cruciform mast. / Pattern of interlaced forms. Belfort – cf. for type 805-806 (Basel) and Roberts, the silver coins on medieval franc, 1996, 92. Extremely rare, possibly unique. Toned, VF £700

The obverse type seems to be the model for the latter Lois the pius deniers of Dorestad (MEC 757) and Quentovic (MEC (749), while the reverse type seems to be the prototype for the Maastricht denier (Depeyrot 540-541.

1729 Frisian imitation of Rodez tremissis, gold plated Æ 0.73 g. Diademed bust r. / Garbled legend around retrograde monogram. Cf. Belfort 3882. Found at pinjum, Frisia, VF. £300

KINGS OF MERCIA

1730 Coenwulf Double Tribrach. Early Transitional Issue, London, 796-797/8. AR penny. Moneyer: Diola. 1.30g. 80°. M CENVVLF REX in three lines divided by two beaded bars, broken at their centre and with added hooks. / DIOLA in the angles of a 'bone-ended' double tribrach. BLS Coenwulf 3. N 343. S 912. Struck from the same obverse die as the example in the Fitzwilliam Museum, Cambridge (see North, vol. 1, pl. 4, no. 33). Good VF, robust silver, lightly toned, crisp lettering. Extremely rare, only three others recorded of this type by Diola. Found near Newark, Nottinghamshire. £1,200

Derek Chick says: "Coenwulf was denied the use of the mints at Canterbury and in East Anglia for the first two years of his reign because of rebellions against Mercian rule which erupted in both kingdoms subsequent to the death of Offa in July 796. Consequently his earliest coins were struck only at London, apparently the only mint available to him, whilst local issues replaced those of Mercia at Canterbury and in East Anglia. These were struck in the names of the two local rulers, respectively, Eadberht Praen in Kent and Eadwald in East Anglia.

These early transitional London coins of Coenwulf are of significant rarity, presumably reflecting a limited issue. In their definitive paper on the coinage of southern England, 796-840 (BNJ Vol XXXII, 1963), Blunt, Lyon and Stewart, whilst convincingly attributing these coins to London, were only able to note five examples represented by three moneyers; Wilhun, Ludoman and Diola. Although there has been increasingly intense metal detector activity in the ensuing years only half a dozen further specimens have come to light, adding Ibba, Ciolhard and Pendwine to the complement of moneyers participating in this issue.

The coins themselves are strongly reminiscent of Offa's last type. (No coins are known for the brief reign of Offa's son, Ecgfrith). Again the king's name and ethnic title are displayed in three lines on the obverse, divided, as on Offa's London coins, by two beaded bars. Although in the case of Coenwulf's coins the bars are broken at their centre and hooks added. There were apparent problems with Coenwulf's longer name which could not be accommodated on one line. On some coins the F is placed on the lower line after REX. Alternatively, as with this example, the O was omitted. This transitional issue was eventually replaced by Coenwulf's substantive tribrach issue which swept away the old elements and introduced a completely new obverse and reverse type.

These new coins, struck both at London and Canterbury (though apparently not in East Anglia) display Coenwulf's name and title in a circular inscription around a rounded M, for Merciorum. The new reverse type was a tribrach similar to that used by Diola but with hooked or moline ends of the type used by Ibba on both his extant transitional coins.

Recent discoveries in the parallel coinages of Kent and East Anglia have now established that this new Mercian circumscription/ tribrach issue must have commenced earlier than had been previously suspected. Two new finds of coins of Eadberht Praen demonstrate that before his deposition he had initiated a new coinage, strongly influenced by the new Mercian coins. These two coins, struck from different dies by the moneyer Duda, display Eadberht's name and royal title in a circular legend around a rounded M, complete with contraction bar above. On the reverse Duda's name is divided by the limbs of a double tribrach moline. Additionally a small fragment of a coin of the East Anglian king, Eadwald, discovered near Ipswich, seem to show a similar obverse circular inscription around a rounded M.

Clearly, both Eadberht Praen and Eadwald were familiar with the new substantive Mercian issue well before their respective deposition and the implication must be that the early transitional London coins enjoyed only a very brief currency, being replaced well before Coenwulf's recovery of Kent in 798. Presuming a delay in initiating a coinage subsequent to his succession, Coenwulf's earliest London issue may have been struck for little more than a year, largely explaining its relative rarity, to be succeeded by his new coins, initially produced at London."

SYLLOGE NUMMORUM GRAECORUM
ISRAEL I
THE ARNOLD SPAER
COLLECTION OF SELEUCID COINS

Case bound, 201 pages of text and 189 plates £75

A TYPE CORPUS OF THE
THE SYRO-PHOENICIAN TETRADRACHMS
AND THEIR FRACTIONS
FROM 57 BC TO AD 253

MICHEL AND KARIN PRIEUR

The long-awaited publication of the Syro-Phoenician tetradrachms has been prepared by Karin and Michel Prieur. It presents all the tetradrachms and their mints known to date of the region, the coins ranging in date from the pseudo-Philip Philadelphus tetradrachms of Aulus Gabinius in 57-5 BC to the reign of Volusian, 251-253.

The corpus is more than a dry recitation of the Syro-Phoenician tetradrachms and their fractions; it benefits from, extends and corrects research on Syro-Phoenician numismatics of the last half-century, with an extensive index and commentary.

Case bound, 201 pages of text and 189 plates £60
